D'AUTREMONT BOND REFUSED

Twins Held in Ohio After Arraignment

Both Say They Will Waive
Extradition

Jury Picked for Brother's
Trial in Oregon

STROUSVILLE (Or.) June 9. (AP)—Ray and Roy d'Autremont, arrested here last night for the murder of four men in connection with the hold-up of a train in Oregon four years ago, late today were arraigned before a United States Commissioner and ordered held without bond as fugitives from justice.

Postoffice inspectors are on their way here from Washington to file charges against them for robbing the mail. After this charge has been filed, they will be taken to Columbia, O., for hearing in Federal Court for a writ of removal to Oregon.

In case bond is demanded, Federal officials indicated tonight, the government will ask it be set at $500,000 each. Charges of murder also face the men on their return to Oregon. The brothers, 37-year-old twins, were held incommunicado throughout the day in City Jail here. A heavy guard has been thrown about the jail.

ADMIT IDENTITY

Both declared today they will waive formal extradition proceedings. When arrested both admitted their identity. By a queer quirk of fate Hugh d'Autremont, their brother, went on trial at Jacksonville, Or., Saturday for his part in the slaying. Ray, arrested at his home here, where he had been living with his wife, a bride of a year, told Federal officials if he had had a chance he would have killed them. "Because he knew what was ahead of him," "I had got a chance, I would have killed you and then myself—my life is worth nothing to me now," Federal officers quoted him as saying. He had assumed the name of Clarence Goodwin.

TAKEN BY NINE

Ray, arrested at an employment agency when taken to police headquarters, for looking said: "Well, it looks like some of you guys are in for a reward." Rewards totaling $50,000 for the arrest of the men had been posted. Ray's wife, whom he married at Trouton, O., was prostrate when she learned of her husband's arrest. He never had revealed his identity to her. When an officer went to the home last night he told her he was an insurance adjuster and wanted her husband to accompany him to the hospital where his brother had been taken following an accident. The accused man fell into the trap and when he entered an automobile he found himself surrounded by heavily armed officers.

JURY SELECTED FOR TRIAL IN OREGON

JACKSONVILLE (Or.) June 9. (AP)—A jury was selected this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the trial of Hugh d'Autremont charged with the murder of Charles O. (Oyie) Johnson during the Blatney Tunnel train robbery in 1923, after four days of examination and 120 witnesses had been examined by court and counsel.

Court adjourned with the selection of the jury until tomorrow morning, to give the jurors an opportunity to make arrangements for the long drive before them.

Captives of Ray and Roy d'Autremont, twin brothers, in Ohio, revived interest today in the long second trial here. The brothers are jointly indicted for the death of each of the victims.

MOTHER UNWORRIED

Mrs. Belle d'Autremont, mother of the trio, who came from her home at Lakewood, N. M., to be at the side of Hugh during his trial, said: "I am not worried about the capture of the twins. If we can clear Hughie we can clear them. I am satisfied we can do that. So, why should I worry? I am surprised that I have worried so little. I feel that by practice I can keep from worrying."

Paul d'Autremont of Eugene, father of the boys, who is divorced from Mrs. d'Autremont and married a second time, did not have anything to say beyond to remark skeptically: "The twins have been caught before. If they have them, let them prove them."

Hugh d'Autremont whistled when he saw a newspaper report of the capture.

Wright, a hurler of ways, kept his claim as the team's leading pitcher yesterday afternoon at Griffith Field, where he twirled. Marv Krug's Angels in a 4-to-1 victory over the invading Portland Beavers.

The other day it was a struggle as the Angels were described as the "Angels in the Field," but now they are the "Angels in the Outfield."

MUSHY OFFERED MANDELL BOUT

Sears Makes Two Propositions to Chicago Promoter With Ring Titles Involved
 Mushy Callahan has been offered a bout with Sammy Mandell in a Chicago ball park on the night of July 12, according to reports prevalent in local fight circles yesterday. Sears, manager of the local junior welterweight champion, was said to have received an offer from Jim Mullins, Chicago promoter, offering Callahan a bout with the lightweight king at 135 pounds. Sears immediately wired two return offers, asking a big percentage if Callahan defended his own title at 135 pounds, and making a counter-proposition for Mandell to defend his own lightweight crown at 135 pounds. Sears claims Callahan can make the better weight without difficulty.

He was acquired tonight from the Kansas City Club in a deal by which Manager Joe McCarthy of the Chicago club agreed to turn over to the Kays Third Baseman Howard Frigan and Pitcher Luther Roy.

Pick first attracted the attention of McCarthy when the Cubs played a preseason exhibition series in the state town this spring. He is 35 years of age, according to President William Veck who announced the deal here.

INDIA TIRES

Endure the Strain of Continuous Speed
SMOOTH glass-like roads—which invite the Los Angeles motorist to trips in every direction—tempt him to travel at high speed. But the very smoothness of the pavements creates another element which is just as hard on tires as jagged roads—and that is heat.

Heat generated through traveling at high speed on long trips over ordinary inner tubes, demands them so that they split, wear through and easily puncture. But the new Improved India Tires, together with the True Blue Heat Proof Inner Tubes, come the destruction caused by heat.

Because India Tires are built to endure road conditions, they are in much demand for California motoring, which affords the test of a tire's stamina.

Put Indians on your car. Backed by the Price, Inc., these dependable tires prove a revelation to you.

FOUR STRAIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, June 9. (P)—The Athletics won their fourth consecutive game and their third in a row from the St. Louis Browns today by a score of 9 to 3. The Mackmen hit Rogers hard from the start but could not handle their offense effectively until the fifth and sixth innings, when they hit him for four runs that broke a 3-1 tie. The Athletics collected a total of sixteen hits, and every man on the team making at least one safety. Walkey pitched a strong game and was helped by fast basing. The score:

SHADE GETS READY FOR YOUNG JACK WILLIS

OAKLAND (Cal.) June 9. (P)—Dave Shade, bounding, crouching, elusive of the ring and one of the leading middleweight title contenders, is molding into top condition for his ten-round bout with Jack Willis, San Antonio, at Oakland Auditorium next Wednesday night. Since arrival, Shade has been working out with young Jack Thompson, speedy Los Angeles negro lightweight, and their training sessions have kept the capacity gymnasium crowded on edge. Shade is a former resident of Concord, near here, and a product of the old four-round game in this section. Despite the fact that the long-jawed fighter has been fighting with his title in contention for several years, he still is a tremendous drawing card here.

TIGERS RALLY

BOSTON, June 9. (P)—A four-run rally in the ninth inning today brought Detroit from behind and enabled the Tigers to defeat Boston, 6 to 4. Singles by Basler, Warner and Gehring, together with an error by Boston's pitcher, and a sacrifice by Gehring, accounted for the final-inning runs. Forthright had a perfect day at bat with a home run, a double and two singles as well as his sacrifice fly. The score:

RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWERY

THE enthusiasm with which Paul Jones, the Texas champion, employed his rabbit punches on the anatomy of Joe Sticher in the waning minutes of their match at the Olympic club last night will probably earn that young man several matches in his fair vicinity.

I am informed by Mister Lou Dore, who left the pasting an- tropic of Glendale long enough yesterday to count the shekels taken in the night before, that this Jones period is very likely to draw an assignment soon with Jimmy London, the handsome Britisher, who never fails to pack 'em in at the Olympic.

It seems, so I am told by Glen- dale's Mister Lou Dore, who re- cently put on one of the biggest shows ever staged in the Jew- el City for the benefit of the Red Cross, that this Jones guy is young and strong and very tough.

It seems, so I am further in- formed by Glenale's commission- man, that when this Sticher party retired to his dressing-room after the ordeal with Jones that he (Sticher) promptly shot the works. Resolving the vulgar to meet the King's English, Mister Sticher last his lunch. He vomited. All as a result of the pressure applied by the Jones legs about the Sticher tummy.

And as a result of his show- ing with the esteemed champion the other night, "Tex" Jones has been hoisted into the limelight as a dangerous contender for the title.

And Coughlin is a good preliminary guy.

The four-rounders couldn't be bet- ter. They are slugging battles. Joe Coughlin is the choice over Eddie O'Neil and Sandy O'Connell is pre- ferred to best Red Atkins. This card is Tom Galt's best of the year and a packed house is looked for.

BROWN, VACCA APPEAR EVEN

Little to Choose Between Two Smallest Fighters

Newboy Made Slight Favor- ite Over Boston Rival

Eastern's Manager to Arrive Here Saturday

There is little to choose between the world's two smallest fighters—Johnny Vacca and Jimmy Brown—who clash at the Olympic club Tuesday night.

After watching both little giants go through their stuff in the gymnasium they look like the same cal- ibre of fighters.

In spite of the fact that Vacca has whipped Pido- del La Barba twice while Brown fought two draws with the same fellow.

Brown has never made anything but good fights here while Vacca did his stuff with La Barba some 5000 miles away. And Los Angeles fans have a weakness for backing up the things they know about in prefer- ence to what they hear about.

Brown and Vacca are evenly matched for size, height, weight and reach.

Vacca is a fraction over five feet tall. Brown sports a five-foot two-inch height. The weight for the match Tuesday night is 117 pounds. Vacca weighed 115 when he defeated La Barba and Brown did the same weight when he boxed the champion the two draws.

But both Brown and Vacca were forced to come on the scene heavy on that the lightweight title would not be in jeopardy.

Brown has boxed seven times this year and the most he has weighed was 117½ lb. catchweights. Vacca made as low as 100 lbs. than a year ago.

HERE SATURDAY

Johnny Buckley will not arrive here until Saturday. But there will be plenty of Vacca-La Barba and Brown-Dempsey or Goffey talk from them on.

Buckley wants the La Barba title fight held in Los Angeles. New York has offered La Barba a fat guaran- tee of $50,000 to box the Boston boy organ-grinder there. But this is the champ's home town.

It isn't impossible that Jack Doyle might meet that figure for a championship bout at his club. Vacca would be forced to work for sim- ilar nothing in either case. It's the match. But Buckley is willing.

JACK DEMPSEY

The best thing that has happened to Babe Ruth this year is the way he has been spurred on by his clout- ing team-mate, Lou Gehrig," says Artie McGovern, the Bambino's train- er.

There's nothing the big fellow likes more than competition. Gehrig is giving him plenty and I think it has a lot to do with the fact that the Babe has been getting his homers at a pace as swift as he has traveled in establishing his record in 1921.

"Perhaps you also have noticed that Ruth hasn't let out a single squawk this year on the field. There was a time when he was called the bad boy of baseball but he is paying strict attention to business these days. The Babe likes his homers as well as anybody, a bit more perhaps, and he won't relax the idea of Gehrig or anyone else stepping out ahead of him."

Appropos of the Yankees' brace of better, the views of Dan Rowley, new manager of the Browns, may be of interest.

"The way they are going now," says Dan, "I would rather see Ruth at bat than Gehrig. We can usually count on the Babe to do one of two things, bust up the ball game or strike out, but Gehrig is liable to do anything; slap one to right, left or center when you least expect it."

Columbus Lou furnished an example of his versatility in helping the Yan- kees beat the White Sox in the open- ing game of their series here. After following Dutch with a home-run shot to the Babe's right-hand bleech- er preserve, Gehrig came to bat but his next turn and rammed a hot shot to left field while the defense was concentrated on the other side.

Considering the width of range, it seems likely that at least one or two of these predictions will hit the mark.

Considering that Bobby Jones has finished 2-1-2-1 in the last five American open championships, he sides bagging the British open title last year, it isn't so surprising that the invading representatives of John Bull regard the American championship next week at Oakland as prin- cipally a battle against the great Georgian.

"On Jones" any of the Britons will say of the mention of his name and flume the cubbed with a gesture of the hands expressive of a conviction that the Atlanta amateur is in a class by himself as a shot-maker.

The era when golfers spoke with something akin to reverence of the names of Brad, Taylor and Vardon, Britain's famous triumvirate, has faded to the background in the at-

Moser Cops Medal Playoff at Annandale

Mrs. Pressler of Hacienda, runner-up in the last State championship, and rightfully rated as one of the most promising feminine exponents in the West—yesterday defeated Mrs. Gregor Lifur, southern champ, 4 and 3 in a sensational semifinale title match of the women's invitational, being sponsored by the California Country Club.

With a sizable gallery that would have been a credit to any major west coast tournament, the most representative golfers in this vicinity started out to win the title for the invitational honors—and over a course that came a stiff physical tribulation. Mrs. Pressler used but thirty-eight strokes

BENEFIT GOLF MATCH SWELLS FLOOD-RELIEF TOTAL $1080

The Von Elm-Paul Hunter vs. Willie Hunter-Dudley, amateur professional golf match staged at the Hollywood Country Club recently resulted in a total of $1080 being collected for the Mississippi Flood Relief Fund. All proceeds from the match, staged by E. E. (Ernie) Moon, of the Hollywood club, were turned over to The Times fund, being collected for sufferers in the devastated Mississippi Valley district. All local clubs co-operated in the success of the affair, Hillcrest, with a donation of $150, leading the way. Players in the exhibition, that resulted in a professional victory, were presented with gold and silver medals by club officials.

through the first nine holes—three more than masculine par and one less than her opponent, who was trailing by one hole. Birdies on seven and eight added to the brilliance of the competition.

Mrs. Lifur won from Mrs. Pressler in the southern championship at Hillcrest, three weeks ago, and the Hacienda visitor, medalist in the State, southern and California events—winner of the midwinter classic at the Los Angeles Country Club last winter, was going for revenge yesterday. Mrs. Pressler's striking, which resulted in an approximate 60—a feminine course record—and a decided victory, could not be construed as "revenge" even in a (top-and-green) sense for the golf displayed was practically airtight, a reputation of the offensive Mrs. Lifur launched to win the southern crown from Mrs. Dan Jones, at Hillcrest.

Mrs. Dan Jones of Brentwood, women's State champion after a 3 and 4 victory over Mrs. Ray Green, yesterday, will meet Mrs. Pressler for the California invitational championship. This morning, as in the southern, Mrs. Jones was

Local P.G.A. Champ Will Meet Hurricane Harry in Challenge Match

Harry Cooper and Charley Guest, who departed from Los Angeles last night for Pittsburgh along with Grant Halstead, Dick Linas and Ed Dudley to compete in the national open championship starting the 14th inst., will get together for a special seventy-two-hole challenge match immediately following their return from the eastern invasion.

The contest will be played early in July, according to present plans, over two Los Angeles courses and both contestants will play gratis. A $7 money that is taken in as a result will be turned over toward a fund for the $250,000 Los Angeles open championship.

The match comes as an aftermath of the local association tournament. Cooper, who was declared ineligible for the event because he was not a member of the local professional organization, issued a challenge to meet the winner. Guest won and is said to have agreed that Cooper should have an opportunity to play him.

DRINKING ON RISE BEFORE PROHIBITION, DATA SHOW

Per Capita Consumption Steadily Increasing From 1900 to 1914, Despite Popular Belief

By Prof. Herman Feldman of Dartmouth College, author of the study of prohibition in the United States prepared for the National Commission on Prohibition and published in The Times.

The prohibition amendment was a mistake. It was the cause of the temperance movement because the country was drinking too much liquor. In a few years the problem will be solved by the repeal of the amendment.

The first question is whether the prohibition movement was a mistake. It was the cause of the temperance movement because the country was drinking too much liquor. In a few years the problem will be solved by the repeal of the amendment.

FACTS SUMMARIZED
Now, then, are the facts about the trend of liquor consumption in the United States during this century.

(1) The average per capita consumption of distilled spirits was higher in the United States in 1910-1914 than in the two previous five-year periods, as against a decline in Great Britain and Germany, in comparison with the earlier part of the century and a slight increase in France.

(2) The average per capita consumption of wine was higher in the United States in the five-year period 1910-1914 than in the two previous five-year periods, while in England and Germany, where the trend of consumption was downward.

(3) The average per capita consumption of beer in the five-year period 1910-1914 was higher in the United States than the per capita during the two previous five-year periods, differing from England and Germany, where the trend of consumption was markedly downward and exceeding the rate of increase in France.

BEVERAGES GROWING
In the face of these statistics, where is the basis in fact for the repeated assertions commonly accepted, that temperance was proceeding without prohibition? The liquor industry itself has not only a vast and profitable one when prohibition came, but had been showing a consistent growth. A comparison of the figures taken every five years by the United States census for lot us say from 1914 back to 1860 shows that the capital investment in each branch of the liquor industry had increased to a marked degree.

COGS TIGHTENING MEANWHILE
Our best index of the trend of consumption, however, is the per capita consumption, from year to year, and the figures are held for all these branches of the liquor industry since the more striking because it occurs in the face of a tightening of the most all restrictive legislation around the industry for decades—by hostile committees under local option laws and by State or a whole.

Now explain this increase in investment and in per capita consumption? Was it due to a general increase throughout the country? Or was the decrease in the "dry" States offset by larger increases in the "wet" States? All information available is pure guess.

We shall hazard, as one explanation, the guess that up to 1914 prohibition by the States did not really prohibit because dry cities were right alongside of wet cities and dry States next to wet States.

JUSTICE SCORES KNOCKOUT

Row Started in Court Followed by Adjudgment for Fistic Bout That Has Quick Finish

MODESTO, June 9. (P)—Stern court justice gave way to justice of the fist at Escalon, near here, yesterday. And, under the Marquis of Queensberry rules of fistic justice, Judge J. M. Campbell scored a technical one-round knockout over Irwin Wiesner, 30 years of age, real-estate operator of that city, in forty-five seconds.

Today Wiesner is under $50 peace bond as a result of the battle. The fight was waged within the shadow of Campbell's justice court. It ended with the shadow from the bars of Escalon's jail falling across Wiesner's damaged countenance.

Verbal hostilities began in the courtroom when Wiesner demanded a complaint for the arrest of Roland Shaw, 18, for disturbing the peace. The court refused to issue a warrant, saying the evidence did not justify it. Wiesner is said to have grown abusive and when admonished invited Judge Campbell outside.

"Court is dismissed," said Judge Campbell, and he walked out of the room of justice into the street in compliance with Wiesner's request. Once outside the court, Wiesner is declared by witnesses to have started

GOV. YOUNG'S POCKET VETO KILLS NUMEROUS BILLS

Three Crime Commission Measures Snuffed Out by Executive, Tabulation Discloses

SACRAMENTO, June 9. (Exclusive)—A tabulation of Senate and Assembly bills acted upon by Gov. Young today showed that he vetoed 209 of the 1107 measures submitted to him. Nine Senate bills and eighteen Assembly bills were vetoed during the legislative session, while sixty-six Senate bills and 116 Assembly bills failed to become laws through the operation of the pocket veto.

Three of the Crime Commission bills were lost by pocket veto. They were Senate Bill No. 306, H. C. Jones, and No. 414, all by Senator Baker. Senate Bill No. 306 relates to the power of grand juries and the making up of the grand jury. Senate Bill No. 414 provides that there be no punishment inflicted upon a person convicted of a crime in the jurisdiction thereof, and No. 414 provides that when a jury finds a defendant guilty of first-degree murder, but cannot agree upon the penalty, the judge shall determine it.

ON BRIDGE BILL
Senate Bill No. 446, Senator Sharkey, which extended the franchise on the San Francisco-Oakland bridge from twenty-five to thirty-five years, and probably was the most-discussed bill during the session, suffered the same fate. The bridge recently was completed and opened, and the company wished an extension of the franchise in order to recoup the investment. The bill originally provided for a twenty-five-year extension, but after a bitter fight, was passed by the Senate in this form. In the Assembly the extension was limited to ten years, upon the belief that the bridge would be paid for by the toll.

Another pocket veto was exercised upon Assembly Bill No. 583, by Senator Sharkey, which provided for the extension of the franchise to the utility industry, as it permitted exceptions to the eight-hour law so that gas companies could work overtime in exceptional cases, as the pockets of portable fridges are now permitted to do. During committee sessions Senator Sharkey advised the farmers to hire more union gas canners from San Francisco and lay off their workers at the end of eight hours.

Assembly Bill No. 607, by the veterans' bloc, which would create the office of County Quartermaster to represent the interests of veterans who have claims against the Federal government, was also pocket vetoed.

Gov. Young also pocket vetoed Assembly Bill No. 670, by Senator of Long Beach, which provided amendments to the improvement laws and was designed to strengthen the claims of Long Beach to the recently abandoned "seawater strip," the subject of much litigation.

"FOR" AND "AGAINST"
The pocket veto fell upon Senate Bill No. 65, Senator Evans, which would clarify much existing law by substituting the words "for" and "against" in place of "yes" and "no" upon the ballot on propositions. He also exercised the pocket veto against the bill of Senator Mueller of E. H. C. Jones, which grants to the La Jolla Yacht Club a perpetual easement across certain waters for a channel and against Senator of Los Angeles, which clarifies the present improvement acts as relating to the harbor.

THE REASON FOR THE exercise of the pocket veto upon so many judges' salary bills, which have been submitted to the Legislature, is that the Governor is not in favor of increasing the salaries of the judges.

Painless Parker and His System

By Painless Parker

FOR many years I have been planning a System that would make dentistry better and make it cost less. The extravagance and waste in dentistry on a small scale are tremendous. My associates and I have now practically perfected a plan that is called the E. R. Parker System, which puts the price of fine dentistry down where the masses can afford it.

The crying need today is for better teeth. Millions of people have diseased, decayed teeth and germ-infected mouths. It is a shame upon the Dental Profession that more has not been done for them.

My associates and I are doing all we can and spreading our System as fast as money can be earned to do it.

When you think of TEETH think of PARKER.

OLD ESTATE BUNKO REVIVED

This Time It's Sir Francis Drake Who Is Dragged from History's Files to Catch Dollars of Unwary

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9. (P)—The name of Sir Francis Drake, English freebooter who was knighted by Queen Elizabeth in the sixteenth century after he had raided the Pacific Coast of Spanish America and skinned the shores of California, figured today in another asserted ruse said to have cost Californians some thousands of dollars.

The so-called raid was announced by Howard Ellis, deputy State Corporation Commissioner, who yesterday asked the deputy District Attorney of San Luis Obispo county to start prosecution of the accused.

Ellis said the asserted victims had been reported from San Francisco and other sections of the State, and that in Southern California even school children had been reported among the "investors."

ELLIS SAID THE BACKERS OF THE SCHEME represented that they wanted to obtain the "£350,000,000 Drake estate" for the "rightful heir," and promised from $100 to $1,000 for every dollar given to support the program.

He named I. M. Thornburgh and Mrs. Inez J. Barry of Alameda as the purported representatives of the "estate" in California.

BEACH PROJECT FIGHT SETTLED

Cabrillo Playground Lanesuits to be Dismissed

Original Boundaries Reduced in Compromise Pact

Action Assures Realization of Long Cherished Hope

Compromise agreements assuring completion of Cabrillo Beach, have been reached between the Playground Commission and property owners near the beach area.

As a result, the beach outside the breakwater will not extend beyond Fortieth street, and Mat Wain's suit tying up the project's funds will be dismissed. Two other injunctions also will be dismissed when the Playground Commission carries out its agreement of running a jetty 300 feet straight east from Fortieth street.

The jetty will limit the playground area outside the breakwater to thirteen acres, while a twelve-acre tract will be developed as a smaller beach just inside the breakwater.

The compromise reduces the project as originally planned, but in return, it avoids years of litigation, and permits the city to realize a project which it is keeping with its funds available.

The city would spend $250,000 for the project five years ago. The total cost under present plans will be $750,000, including boat and bath houses and the land made from piping dredged material from the inner harbor.

Opportunity always will remain open for reconstruction of property permitting the playground's enlargement, but the present plan is deemed sufficient for many years to come.

That the beach, both the east and still-water side, is filling a need of the port community is evident in the thousands of bathers frequenting it daily, despite its uncompleted state and absence of dressing-rooms and facilities.

THE BIG MAN

By OCTAVUS
ROY COHEN

It was not generally known that Ted Garrison had a wife. And women liked him; particularly John Dawn and Mrs. Dawn. Mrs. Dawn, unfortunately, liked him too well.

John Dawn was a tall, dark, friendly man. He possessed excellent manners, fair education and a slow, winning smile. At twenty-five years of age he was still something of a "babe." He held a responsible position in one of the many businesses in which John Dawn engaged a consulting interest, and no one—not even John Dawn—knew that he was short in his accounts.

John Dawn was 45 years of age; a big, broad-shouldered, somewhat gruff man, who made his way by sheer physical force. All his life he had held aloof. He had given his love to one woman—his wife, and his friendship to one man—Ted Garrison. The wide difference in their age and status made no difference to Dawn. He only knew he liked the old man, and he liked him because he might have been at that point in his life.

Ted was constantly at her home. He was a member of the family. Dawn was slow and sparing of speech; he never played, because he didn't know how. Ted was a good bit. She was twenty years her husband's junior, and she had never overcome her awe of her husband. She felt no intimacy with the younger man. He was her type and her age, and long before she knew this she had fallen in love with him. Ted was conscious of it.

The condition pleased him, yet he made no attempt to take advantage of it. He so far as his intimate relationship permitted him to be wholeheartedly kind and considerate to her. Ted was a good bit. She was twenty years her husband's junior, and she had never overcome her awe of her husband. She felt no intimacy with the younger man. He was her type and her age, and long before she knew this she had fallen in love with him. Ted was conscious of it.

One night she broke the bonds of convention and declared herself.

with her husband would be certain to trust her lover more. He could never trust her—nor she him. For them to sleep would be an invitation to hideous misery.

"And the ethical side?"

"That, of course, is severely worth discussing. No decent man—no man with a single spark of rightness in his make-up—could even consider it. 'here did you get such an idea?'"

"Oh, nothing special. I was just thinking. 'Ted is bound to think of every thing. And it just struck me—well, what's certain is that if Ted is bound to think of every thing, he would otherwise be unapproachable.'"

"Not that sort of thing. And Ted's really that if you think it over. Wrong may occasionally be excused—but it's a deadly sin."

Ted did not go to the Dawn home that night. He had to eat alone and thought. His thoughts were not pleasant. John Dawn had impressed him. The man was so straightforward and honest, so unequivocally right.

Ted Garrison decided that he would face disaster, that he would go to prison if necessary, but that he would never betray the friendship of this man.

For two days he carried that thought about with him. Ethel called him and he pleaded other engagements. Once they met, and he made it plain that he would never see the thing through. John Dawn telephoned him to inquire why he was neglecting them.

The stark horror of his future—when the shortage should be discovered—weighed heavily on him. He thought of Ethel Dawn and of distant lands of freedom and safety and affluence. . . . but always the kindly, deep-set face of John Dawn rose before him, and he heard the man's quiet, calm utterance. Dawn was the sort of man Ted Garrison knew he would like to be.

But he also knew that he never could. He told himself that he was a decent man and a sensitive idealist. He tried deliberately to encourage himself into going through with the engagement.

And then one morning he found in his mail a letter from John Dawn. It was brief and urgent with the call of duty, worth-while friendship.

"My Dear Ted: I wonder whether you might not be able to use this slight loan? Return it whenever it is perfectly convenient."

And so let us see you at the house again. Affectionately, John.

Ted Garrison made of the check which was enclosed. It was for $1400—and it told a graphic story. It was the exact sum of his shortage.

WOMEN URGED TO WORK LESS

Club Leader Says Too Few
Electrical Devices Used

Blames "Habit" for Slow
Acceptance of Inventions

Electric Association Warned
Imports Must Increase

ATLANTIC CITY, June 9. (AP)—Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, told delegates to the convention of the National Electric Light Association today that her organization was directing an intense campaign to educate women to the utility and labor-saving benefits of the electrical improvements of recent years.

"When electric power is within easy reach of all homes, it is the duty of the community," she asked, "why are sixty-five American home-makers out of every 100 still sweeping floors with the back-breaking, dust-raising, germ-cultivating broom? Why are seventy-eight women out of every 100 rubbing the family wash on the plank wash board and straining at the old-fashioned wringers when the mechanical machine will do the work better and release the house-maker to the care and companionship of her children?"

"HABIT," HER ANSWER

"Why should ninety-six out of every 100 women in towns that have no gas works be furnishing the roofed bar or rooming with the cool Seattle to get the family meal, when the wire that brings light to the home could furnish a fuel available at the turn of a switch?"

She was convinced, she said, that in many cases the answer was "habit."

Charles B. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank of New York, today asserted that the American people will have to accustom themselves to an import balance of trade.

MARSHAL HAIG QUITE CERTAIN WORLD WAR WON BY BRITISH

(Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune)

LONDON, June 9. (Exclusive)—It is not quite clear yet what won the great war—the British armies, the Allies, or the mistakes of the enemies.

So far as Great Britain is concerned, there is a national tendency to be little the part the British played in winning, according to Field Marshal Earl Haig, who sprung a spirited protest against this tendency while addressing delegates to the conference of the British Empire Service League today. Fostered and encouraged by considerations of policy, the nation was being led to ascribe the victory to the "fortunate destiny of our country."

He did not like to think of the effect of the next great call on the dominions if the accepted version of the empire's part was that the success was not due to its own efforts, but to the mercy of providence and assistance of other nations.

However, without appearing to hold a brief for the newspapers, we are of the definite opinion that, dollar for dollar, our return from newspaper advertising is much greater than from any other form of advertising. We would advise manufacturers to link up their advertising with the advertising of local dealers. They will thus inform the public where their products may be had and should produce best results."

NEWSPAPERS BEST

However important other channels of advertising may be, the newspaper affords the avenue that returns the largest business to the merchant.

On an experience of many years, D. P. Kelly, president of the Fair Chicago department store, this afternoon imparted this assurance to the delegates and guests of the association.

"Merchants generally recognize that billboard and street-car advertising are of unquestioned value in marketing products requiring nation-wide distribution," he said. "Magazines and billboards have made the names of nationally known specialties household words and have created widespread demand for such goods."

The comet was located in the southern constellation Pictus Austrinus, known as the Southern Fish.

BARNSDALL OIL HEAD IN FIELD

E. B. Reeser Making Survey of Local Conditions

Says California Doing Share to Curtail Output

Task Easier Here Because of Fewer Operators

California has made greater progress in the curtailment of the oil output than any other producing area of the country, according to a statement made yesterday by E. B. Reeser, president of the Barnsdall Corporation, one of the large independent oil companies. Mr. Reeser is in Los Angeles and has just completed a three-day tour of the various oil fields of this state.

Because of an overproduction of 300,000 barrels of crude oil daily, the industry of the nation is suffering a loss of approximately $2,500,000 daily, or $75,000,000 every thirty days, Mr. Reeser said. The spread between production and consumption is responsible for the average reduction of $1 a barrel in the price of crude, and on the basis of the daily average production of approximately 2,500,000 barrels, this represents the loss he calculated.

RAISER TALK HERE

Because of the smaller number of companies operating in the California field it has been less difficult to obtain co-operation than in the Mid-Continent field, where more than 250 companies of substantial size are conducting operations, he added.

A stockholders' meeting of the Barnsdall Corporation will be called later in the current month to approve the action of the board of directors to curtail the company's output of oil to 1,000,000 barrels a day, Mr. Reeser announced. The curtailment will be made on the basis of one share of either "A" or "B" stock for one share of new common stock. No increase in capitalization is contemplated.

Earnings of the Barnsdall Corporation for the second quarter will be slightly higher than in the first three months of this year; third-quarter earnings should be substantially higher than either the first or second periods, and net profits of the corporation for 1927 will be considerably greater than in 1926, he predicted.

REFINERY IN FUTURE

Plans for this production is found in the company's successful development in the Barbours field in Oklahoma, where a refinery is now being built. While in this field are averaging from 3000 to 7000 barrels daily, and twenty-one of the forty-three barrels are being refined. The refinery is expected to be completed within six weeks. The company now has two wells producing a total of 7000 barrels in this field.

Within the next two years the Barnsdall Corporation will complete the construction of a large refinery in this territory, Mr. Reeser stated, but this project must necessarily wait until conditions improve for the field.

AIR FLIGHTS CAPITALIZED

Business Companies Quick to Seize Advertising Benefit; Standard Oil of California Alert

By HARRY R. CROWE

As a commercial proposition one of the interesting results from the two trans-Atlantic air flights is the aggressive application of modern merchandising and advertising methods. Hardly had the news of the successful completion of both flights been flashed across the Atlantic when business corporations by the score began to capitalize whatever their product played in the epochal flights. It was a race against time to broadcast this information properly and effectively before the popular fancy turned to something else.

On the New York Stock Exchange the speculators, as usual, contributed their bit. Seizing upon the most important product figuring in the Lindbergh hop, the speculators demonstrated their enthusiasm and eagerness by bidding up the stock of Wright Aeronautical, the company that manufactured the engine used in the Lindbergh ship. The stock of Commander Byrd's North Pole plane. In this case, the Wright company received its publicity without turning a hand.

PLANS UPON

The plan of the Standard Oil Company of California was slightly different. Capitalizing on the part of the flight the advertising department of this company did some fast work. Advertising men had already been in the Lindbergh ship. The plan of the Standard Oil Company of California was slightly different. Capitalizing on the part of the flight the advertising department of this company did some fast work. Advertising men had already been in the Lindbergh ship.

On the news that Lindbergh had taken the air for Paris the Standard company immediately wired the Pacific Coast newspapers to alter the program of their company in this territory. He made favorable comment on the new Goleta field in Santa Barbara county.

After spending the last week in visiting the Barnsdall properties here, Mr. Reeser, vice-president in charge of California operations, Mr. Reeser expressed himself as well pleased with the progress of his company in this territory. He made favorable comment on the new Goleta field in Santa Barbara county.

EXPERTS AS SALESMEN

As a further illustration of what the oil companies are doing to capture the airplane business, the Standard Oil of California has engaged George Horvitz, who accompanied Byrd to the North Pole, as its expert merchandiser of aviation gasoline. Horvitz will accompany Byrd on the projected European flight, and the ship will also use the Standard gasoline. As in the previous case, the company's profit will be increased by the sale of this gasoline.

The employment of an expert merchandiser in this gasoline, the company explains, is merely an extension of its existing policy in the sale of its products. As far as possible the men who sell gasoline and lubricants to the general public are selected from such as lumber mills, orchardists, industrial concerns, etc., are themselves familiar with the requirements of the various types of consumers.

Since the completion of the second flight to Europe, oil companies in Los Angeles have been busy with ambitious flyers and promoters to finance nonstop flights to the Hawaiian Islands. The requests range all the way from outside financing to various forms of compensation for the use of the gasoline.

LONDON, June 9. (By Wireless)—Today's markets were featured by steady. Most week probably will see some revival of business owing to the commencement of the new season, but indications suggest that the monetary and political uncertainties will occasion subdued market conditions for some time. Moreover, fresh outpourings of new capital creations will begin next week.

Abandonment of gold this week has been mainly for the British and Russian currencies, but the French demands are not yet over.

At the annual rate of 2.5 per cent, the chairman protested against the government's restriction on the importation of foreign currencies, stating that the company's competitors in other countries were able to obtain supplies on more favorable terms.

The stock market closed improved with a big jump in American Colman, while investments were better and money rates a trifle easier.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL FLOTATIONS MOUNT

TOTAL OF $12,129,385 DURING YEAR TO DATE DECLARED NEW HIGH RECORD

For the first five months of 1927, State and municipal flotations through the issuance of bonds has averaged $1,959,000 monthly. This is at the annual rate of over $12,000,000, and according to the Daily Bond Buyer of New York, constitutes a new high record.

New issues in May of $1,959,000 show a big increase over the $1,385,000 bonds sold in April and exceed the total for the corresponding month in any other year on record. Not since June, 1924, has a single month's flotations been so close to the $2,000,000 mark.

International Casualty Sold by Blackstock

Interests of the International Indemnity Company formerly owned by H. Blackstock, former president and treasurer, Joseph F. Levy, former vice-president, and Charles Blackstock, former director, have been purchased by Max E. and Sam T. Hayward, brothers, who announced yesterday following a reorganization meeting of the company.

New officers elected include Max E. Hayward, president; Sam T. Hayward and C. A. Howard, vice-presidents; Arch McAllister and Merle D. Smith, directors. Mr. Hayward was also elected treasurer and Mr. McAllister will continue to hold the position of assistant general manager. Emil Johnson was re-elected secretary.

The company, which handles various forms of casualty insurance, was organized in 1913 and its business extends as far east as Michigan and Ohio. It was stated by the officers that the organization last year wrote approximately $5,000,000 in business, which they declared established a record for a California casualty company.

NEW CAPITAL FLOOD RISES

Offerings Scheduled for This Week to Lift Total for Year to Date to $3,600,000,000

By PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

NEW YORK, June 9. (Reutative)—The flood of new capital issues offered today or scheduled for delivery this week lifts the 1927 total to date to a round billion dollars above that for the same period last year. Only by a glance at the statistics on new financing can the magnitude of operations this year be appreciated. It now is all but certain that bond and stock flotations for 1927 to date will pass the $3,600,000,000 mark this week. That compares with a 1926 total for the same period of $2,777,000,000. It means that all previous records in new financing have been left far behind.

Now that the arrangements for government refunding have been virtually completed, it is thought that the bond market may emerge from the somewhat lethargic condition into which it has fallen. From a recent peak of $245,000,000 early in May the weekly volume of new capital issues has been dropping steadily in the last month until a week ago it got down to $80,000,000. Nobody in the financial district looked upon this contraction in new financing as indication of a permanent turn downward. It was widely regarded as a move on the part of bankers to give time for the digestion of securities previously marketed and to allow the Treasury Department to proceed with its refunding program unhindered.

Enough new issues now are in the fire ready for public offering to bring this week's total around a $500,000,000 mark, which means that the volume for the week will be substantially more than twice that of a year ago. Wall street, trained in the old school to look upon railroad bonds as the premier American investment, will be a little surprised to learn that public utility issues offered to date in 1927 represent a total twice that of railroad flotations. Public utility issues at $618,000,000.

THE choice of the right investment house is the most important factor in sound investing. Be sure then, that the house you select is both able and willing to serve you.

"Able to serve" means such resources, complete facilities, experienced judgment, and trained personnel.

"Willing to serve" means an unwavering policy which always places the welfare of the client foremost—a policy which is reflected in the endeavor of each member of the organization to assist every client in the selection and care of securities especially adapted to individual needs.

A steadily growing clientele of conservative investors bespeaks the ability of HUNTER, DULIN & CO. in meeting these requirements.

STOCK MARKET MOVE ERRATIC

BURNER SINKS

Renewed selling of United States rubber common set that stock to a new low on 45 5-4. Other rubbers held fairly steady. Miller reports that 1937 earnings were running way ahead of last year. Weakness also developed in American Borax. Electric Steel, American Steel and Wire, Inland Steel and Wabash Bell as new low levels for the year. Time money was slightly firmer, being quoted at 100. Commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Sharp advances in wheat and cotton restored the commodity market to a new high. Wheat advanced 45 to 46 1/2 points net higher on adverse weather reports from Texas and other cotton centers. Wheat moved up on futures lost ground on realizing. Coffee prices advanced slightly. Spot raw sugar was unchanged but futures were again

A brisk recovery of about 12 points in Spanish pesetas, which again sold above 17 1-4 cents, was the only change of consequence in the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling was slightly firmer at $4.25 3-16 and French francs were unchanged around 5.21 1/2 cents.

Wheat Futures Advance; Corn Given Setback

CHICAGO, June 8 (Reuters)—Wheat and corn markets settled somewhat higher, the former drawing a strong stimulus from a report that the U.S. government had raised its estimate of the 1961-62 wheat crop to 1.6 billion bushels, up from 1.55 billion. Wheat rose 1 1/2 cents to 1.61 1/2 cents a bushel, while corn was 1 1/2 cents lower, with July 93 1/2 cents and September 92 1/2 cents. Oats were 1/2 cent higher to 36 cents, with July 69 1/2 cents and September 69 1/2 cents; soy beans highest, with July 1 1/8 and September 1 1/8.

Representatives from the government report that the U.S. government has indicated that it is willing to sell wheat, as indicated by a statement submitted to Secretary of Agriculture Danforth, one responsible for a good part of the late price rise. The U.S. government has been buying wheat since the late 1950s, and the report says that the U.S. will sell about 100 million bushels of wheat by the end of the year. At the same time, the report says that the U.S. will sell about 100 million bushels of wheat by the end of the year.

The report also says that the U.S. will sell about 100 million bushels of wheat by the end of the year. The report also says that the U.S. will sell about 100 million bushels of wheat by the end of the year. The report also says that the U.S. will sell about 100 million bushels of wheat by the end of the year.

The plans still contained the general trend to give more weight to publicly held firms than to natural resources on the market through the day, with considerable doubt as to whether the government would actually move forward with the act. The Canadian report on condition of mining stated will be given on late November, and according to Winnipeg newspaper, the government will probably raise the rate of 150% higher on the list of mining projects available for public sale.

Geological Journal's summary, as received by New York, was answered by letter as a book of the Geological Survey of Canada, and the report may have been made in which there was the slightest foundation, because as he was involved with during the the Mining report would be a similar story. When the Mining report was received, it was based by the private estimate. It has not been regarded as added for the Department of Agriculture to supply any comments on what was said in the report. The report was made in 1907, based on what at the moment was fair, but sales of $20,000 to $30,000 tons in the

of Finance Companies,
Awaiting Receivership

Hearing on a contempt citation against John Henry Scales, Jr., secretary of the Western Bond and Mortgage Company and the Great Western Finance Company, yesterday was continued by Judge Crawford of Superior Court until the conclusion of the case on trial before the court.
The case involves the affairs of the companies.

Young Scales came here from San Francisco under $500 bond to appear on the citation but inasmuch as he was called yesterday as a witness in the case on trial before the court,
Judge Crawford deemed it advisable not to take up the contempt matter until the case on trial was over.

Scales and his father, who is president of the companies, were cited for contempt because of their refusal to appear before the court. It was said yesterday that the Scales probably will arrive in Los Angeles today.

Commencement exercises at the California Christian College came to for the seventeen graduates at the mencement address was delivered by Frank Harold Blum.

Among the speakers at the banquet
last night were President Braden, Rev. Arthur Braden, representing the church, and the student body officers.
The banquet was a success and the graduates were well pleased with the results of their studies.

A student banquet at 8 a. m. today will conclude the graduation exercises for the week.

DENY GAS RATE REHEARING

State Railroad Commission Rules Against Three Companies Serving Southland Territory

The State Railroad Commission yesterday denied three gas companies serving Southern California territory with natural gas a rehearing of a recent decision setting rates which did not meet with the approval of the commission, according to word received from San Francisco. The companies involved are the Southern California Gas Company, the Southern Counties Gas Company and the Midway Gas Company.

On May 26, last, coincidentally with the announcement of its determination to appoint a gas administrator for Southern California, the Railroad Commission set a schedule of wholesale rates for the three companies.

The rates granted were an increase of 1 1/2 cents per 1000 cubic feet for wholesale gas supplied by these companies to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company for further distribution, the rise going from 18 cents per 1000 cubic feet to 19 1/2 cents.

The increases, however, were not fully satisfactory to the companies, as they had requested a boost to a minimum of 2 1/2 cents per 1000 cubic feet. The order was handed down, the companies filed application for a rehearing in an attempt to get another decision. It was this application which was denied.

The commission's attitude, as explained in that by having the rate where they are at the present time, it wishes to determine if it is possible to promote greater consumption of gas.

DOCTOR AND ACTRESS IN COURTROOM
 Two Appear in Raymond Case But Hearing Delayed on Separate Trial Plea

Dorothy Mackaye, stage actress, and Dr. W. J. Sullivan, Hollywood physician, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Burnell when a motion made in behalf of the physician for a separate trial on an indictment accusing them of two felony charges growing out of the recent death of his husband, Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, came up for hearing.

Due to the fact that Miss Mackaye was not present when the morning session opened and arrived too late for the arguments to be heard, the hearing was postponed by Judge Burnell until Monday, when he is expected to decide whether Dr. Sullivan should stand trial with her or is entitled to a trial alone. Their trial is scheduled to commence the 16th inst.

Judge Burnell intimated on the presence of Miss Mackaye in court during the argument of Dr. Sullivan's attorney, Thomas F. White, in view of the seriousness of the charges against them. Her attorneys, Jerry Geisler and Roger Mercein, brought her into court, but in the meantime, Attorney White had started his argument to a jury in another case in another court, so the hearing was postponed.

Attorney Geisler said last night he will neither oppose nor favor the granting of a separate trial to Dr. Sullivan. Dist. Atty. Murray and Kemp, who will prosecute the two defendants, said they will insist they be tried together. The matter is discretionary with the court.

Tunkson talked on Los Angeles from an engineering point of view, and little Miss Mary Alice Gilda of Glendale shone brilliantly in two smart dances.

EDWIN CAREWE'S DOG DIES

The prize-winning dog, Lasker, a gift to Edwin Carewe from Outhier Leasing, an attorney, is now only a memory. He contracted an incurable disease last winter while being used in a film scene, and the best dog specialists could not help him. His body was cremated, but city regulations did not permit it to be retained.

Last week there was a misunderstanding between them but the difficulty was smoothed over, he said. Monday night in their apartment he may have been a bit brusque when he told her he couldn't go to a theater with her because he had some writing to do, he said. She went to the bathroom and came out carrying a bottle of poison, part of the contents of which she swallowed before he realized what she was doing, he told the coroner's jury. She was dead when the doctor he summoned arrived at the house.

Officers from the Hollywood police station who testified, including Capt. Knowles, expressed the opinion that it was a plain case of suicide. They gave little credence to reports from the father that his daughter's life had been threatened before. Deputy Coroner Monford conducted the case with Dep. Dist. Atty. Egan, representing the state.

DAUGHTER LEAVES

Melancholy as a result of continued ill health, Mrs. Cecilia Sawyer, 44 years of age, 2115 Poinsett street, ended her life yesterday by shooting herself through the head with a .22-caliber revolver.

Setting her home in order and awaiting the departure of her daughter, Theresa, at 11 a.m., Mrs. Sawyer sat down in a chair in her kitchen and fired the shot. The body was found by the daughter when she returned home shortly after 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Sawyer, who was a widow, is survived by three children besides the daughter Theresa, two sons, William and Henry, and another daughter, Frances.

Police investigating the occurrence are of the opinion the shot was fired shortly after the daughter left the house. Detectives Dickey and Keatin of the Hollywood police station, were detailed to the case.

Lady Luck Total Stranger,
Says ex-Police Chauffeur, Haled to Court by Wife

If there is any such personage as Lady Luck, who is a total stranger to William Bartles, 36 years of age and former police ambulance driver, never a smile has she given Bartles in the past year, he said when he appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Galbreth for failing to provide for the maintenance of his 4-year-old son Homer.

"Not a bit of sunshine has fallen into the life of this defendant, Your Honor," pleaded Attorney Chandos Bush, "at least during the past year. It has all been clouds and the shadows of misfortune."

Attorney Bush said Bartles was twice injured in smash-ups. He was driving Mayor Cryer when wrecking of the machine broke the Mayor's

Then all the little Gleecons crowded around Bartles, his attorney said, for he was dismissed from the force for unpaid debts and since then Bartles has been unable to find steady employment.

Judge Calhoun suspended a thirty-day jail sentence provided Bartles pays $20 a month for his child's support.

Appointment of Ernest L. Dams, foreign trade expert of the United States Department of Commerce, as assistant director of the Los Angeles branch of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, was announced yesterday in dispatches received by O. O. Gearhart, president of the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California, from Washington.

James A. H. Smiley, former assistant trade commissioner to Shanghai, and for several years district commissioner in Boston and Philadelphia for the Department of Commerce, has been named director in charge of the local bureau, which is scheduled to open its office on the ground floor of the Chamber of Commerce Building about July 15, next.

Plans Accepted for Building of Club LaSalle

Final approval has been given architect's plans for the remodeling of the business property at 216 North Western avenue, it was announced yesterday by A. J. Franks from his office in the building.

Work already has started toward converting the former ballroom into a dance club of the modern continental type. The new venture, to be known as the Club LaSalle, will be the first establishment of its kind on the Pacific Coast, according to plans.

Jack Farrell has been placed under contract to take charge of music and entertainment. Farrell will direct personally a dance orchestra and stage and screen stars will appear on the entertainment programs from time to time.

The first unit of work calls for an illuminated marquee and remodeling of the facade. It is expected subsequent units will take over the adjoining property on the south side for an open-air patio and cafe.

DRIVERS WARNED ABOUT BACKING

Traffic Officer in KHNJ Talk Calls Attention to Deaths of Children

In the daily traffic talk from Radio KJH, given yesterday by Officer Ellenson of the police safety bureau, attention was called to the cases of several children killed recently by automobiles backing out of garages.

He declared drivers must not only think for themselves, but also for the thoughtless child. Before backing drivers must take care to look around to see if anyone is in the path of the car or likely to be, he said. Only by such care can such accidents be avoided.
